KRESS PUBLICATION FELLOWSHIPS

Deadline: January 15

The American School of Classical Studies at Athens is pleased to announce the fourth year of a five-year program of fellowships funded by the Samuel H. Kress Foundation. The Kress Foundation supports research in the art and architecture of antiquity.

Eligibility: Senior (post-doctoral) scholars working on a publication assignment from Corinth, Agora, Lerna or from an affiliated project of the School. Preference will be given to those working on a Corinth, Agora, or Lerna excavation volume and to those applicants who have not previously received the Kress Publications Fellowship. Applications from current staff of the School are not eligible.

Terms: The School awards up to three or more grants each year. Stipends are for a minimum of three months (up to $10,000) to a maximum of nine months (up to $30,000) during the ASCSA fiscal year (July 1 – June 30). School fees, travel costs, housing, board, residence permits (if applicable), and other living expenses are to be paid out of the stipend by the recipient. A final report and budget are due at the end of the award period, and the ASCSA expects that copies of all publications that result from research conducted as a Fellow of the ASCSA be contributed to the Blegen Library or another relevant library of the School.

Application: Submit Senior Associate Fellowship application; curriculum vitae; proposal (including project outline, explanation of goals, statement of the significance of the project, work completed to date, schedule for completion, and budget); letter of support from the appropriate excavation director; and two letters of recommendation. Applicants are encouraged to include costs for any photography needed for final publication. Submit all application materials online: <http://www.ascsa.edu.gr/index.php/admission-membership/student-associate-membership>.
