Vision/Mission/Philosophy of the ASCSA

Vision: The American School of Classical Studies at Athens (ASCSA) strives to maintain and enhance its position as the preeminent center for the study of the Greek world from antiquity to the present day.

Mission: The American School of Classical Studies at Athens advances knowledge of Greece in all periods, as well as other areas of the classical world, by training young scholars, sponsoring and promoting archaeological fieldwork, providing resources for scholarly work, and disseminating research. The ASCSA is also charged by the Hellenic Ministry of Culture and Tourism with primary responsibility for all American archaeological research, and seeks to support the investigation, preservation, and presentation of Greece’s cultural heritage.

Philosophy: The study of Greece from antiquity to the present day is critical for understanding the civilizations, history and culture of the Mediterranean, Europe, and Western Asia. The ASCSA supports a multidisciplinary approach to Hellenic studies, encompassing the fields of archaeology, anthropology, the archaeological sciences, topography, architecture, epigraphy, numismatics, history, art, language, literature, philosophy, religion, and cultural studies. As an institution in Greece sponsored by a consortium of institutions of higher education in North America, the ASCSA makes its resources available to qualified scholars, promotes the highest standards of research and archaeological fieldwork, and shares the results of its work.

Emergency Procedures

When responding to an emergency, immediately notify the school in the following fashion.

A) If there is a medical emergency, 1) first call the school’s doctor and 2) then contact the Guardhouse, director, and general manager (see below):

School doctor: Nikos Michalopoulos: 694-558-2274 (mobile)
210-821-7771 (office); 210-808-1570 (home)

B) If there is an emergency, immediately contact each of the following 1) Guardhouse, 2) Director, and 3) General Manager. The Director and the General Manager coordinate the Crisis Response Team, which is made up of Department Heads. This procedure will start a phone chain and ensure that the school learns of a situation. It will enable staff to respond in an appropriate fashion and to disseminate relevant information to the entire ASCSA community.

C) In preparation for crisis situations, the School will institute a buddy system for all staff and Loring Hall residents to assist in identifying those present and absent during emergencies.

Guardhouse: 213-000-2400, ext. 132
Director: James Wright: 693-638-7483 (mobile); 213-000-2400 ext.128, 129
General Manager: Pantelis Panos: 693-249-2326

Advice for specific emergency situations

Evacuation
- Prepare in Advance
  Know the location of your assigned and alternate emergency exits.
Plan the routes you will take to reach these exits in the event of an emergency.

- When to Evacuate
  - At the sound of a fire alarm (two pitch continuous sound) by following relevant procedures described below.
  - At the sound of the evacuation alarm (single pitch intermittent sound) evacuate immediately.
  - When an obvious life-threatening emergency exists.
  - At the direction of the School’s Personnel or external Emergency Personnel.

- Evacuation Procedures and Routes
  - Alert others around you.
  - If it is safe to do so, the area should be secured by turning off electrical equipment and safeguarding vital information and valuables.
  - Walk, do not run, to your assigned or alternate emergency exit.
  - Do not use elevators.
  - Assist people with disabilities.
  - Do not push or crowd.
  - Keep noise/talking to a minimum, so that you can hear emergency instructions.
  - Use the handrails in the stairwells and stay to the right.
  - Proceed outside to the assembly area, which is at the northwest corner of the School grounds by the secondary gate of Souidias street next to the British School.
  - If you are injured or trapped, remain where you are so that rescue can be attempted by Emergency Personnel.
  - Re-enter the building only once the all-clear is given.

- Stay Together
  It is important that all staff, members and visitors stay together during an evacuation. This will help the Emergency Response Personnel assess whether all persons have been safely evacuated.

Fire
Please familiarize yourself with the location of fire exits and fire extinguishers in your area. For certain exits a key is locked in a break glass box.
Upon discovering a fire...

- Activate the break-glass fire alarm button and notify the School.
- Close doors to isolate the fire. Do not use elevators.
- If you are unable to contact the ASCSA guardhouse or staff, call 199.
- If the fire is small, you may wish to use a fire extinguisher if you are trained to do so. You should know where the nearest portable fire extinguishers are to your work area.
- Maintain a clear escape path by placing yourself between the fire and an exit.
- Assist any person in immediate danger, but only if safe to do so.
- Alert other people in the immediate area.
- Evacuate to the assembly area, which is at the northwest corner of the School grounds by the secondary gate of Souidias street next to the British School.

Earthquake

During an Earthquake

Inside the Building:

- DUCK - When you feel an earthquake, duck under a sturdy desk or table. Stay away from windows, bookcases, file cabinets, tall furniture, heavy mirrors or paintings, and other objects that could fall. Watch out for falling plaster, lighting fixtures, ceiling tiles or glass.
- COVER - Stay under cover until the shaking stops. If no desk or table is available, seek cover against an interior wall and protect your head and neck with your arms.
- HOLD - Hold onto the desk or table. If it moves, move with it. Hold your position until the ground stops shaking and it is safe to move.
- Do not rush outdoors, since most injuries occur as people are leaving buildings from falling glass, plaster, bricks, debris, and electrical lines. Stay put!
- Do not attempt to restrain falling objects unless your life is endangered by them.
- Wait until the shaking stops, then leave the building. Move away from overhangs, power lines and trees, and stay in the open away from all structures.
Lighting systems may fail within seconds after the quake. Visually identify potentially dangerous articles and recall the location of a flashlight. However, keep your body protected at all times during the shaking.

Outside the Building:
- Move away from trees, signs, buildings, electrical poles and wires.
- Protect your head with your arms from falling bricks, glass, plaster, and other debris.
- Move away from fire and smoke and proceed to the assembly area if safe.

After an Earthquake

- Remain calm. Take whatever actions are necessary to prevent injuries and further damage. Do not panic and do all that is possible to calm others.
- Remember, aftershocks may occur at any moment with nearly the same force as the original quake. Be prepared.
- Move cautiously and observe your surroundings for hazardous situations.
- Check yourself and people around you for injuries. Do not attempt to move seriously injured people unless they are in immediate danger of further injury. Provide first aid where necessary.
- Do not use your telephone except for genuine emergency calls. Seek help by phone (if working and you have need for emergency aid), or by sending an able-bodied person. Expect a long delay if serious quake has occurred.
- Elevators can be unpredictable and dangerous after a quake. Never use elevators until you have been assured by School personnel that they are safe.
- If you detect gas or any foreign odors, do not use matches or candles. Open windows, leave the building immediately, and report to staff.

Bomb Threat

What to do if you receive a telephoned bomb threat

- Stay calm and keep your voice calm. Once it becomes clear that you are dealing with a telephoned bomb threat, try to ask the caller the following questions. (These questions may seem silly, but because of the tension and excitement that arises when a person is making a bomb threat, the answers, if any, may reveal more than you would expect.) * Where is it right now? * When is the bomb going to explode? * What does it look like? * What kind of a bomb is it? * Did you place the bomb? * Why? * What is your address? * What is your name?

- After the caller has hung up, and you have written down briefly as many of the pertinent details of the conversation as you can remember, including your impressions of the caller, telephone, using the nearest landline only, the Antiterrorist Squad 210-6446555, 210-6445907, to report the threat and contact also the Crisis Response Team of the School. If the reported location of the bomb is in your area, do not use any cellular phone to report the threat. Be sure to include in your report your name, the time the threat was received and the telephone number at which it was received.

- In the case of a bomb threat or discovery of a suspicious object, the decision to evacuate the building is made by the Crisis Response Team or external Emergency Personnel.

- A search of the building may be conducted depending upon the circumstances.

In case of an explosion

- Take cover under sturdy furniture, or leave the building if directed to do so by emergency responders.
- Stay away from windows.
- Do not light matches.
- Move well away from the site of the hazard to a safe location.
- Use stairs only; do not use elevators.

What to do if you see an object you think might be a bomb:

- Do not touch it.
- Contact the Crisis Response Team and report the location and description of the object, and the reason why you think it might be a bomb. If the reported location of the bomb is in your area, do not use any cellular phone or other radio transmitting equipment to report the threat. Remember to identify yourself.
- Turn off cellular phones and other radio transmitting equipment in the area. Some explosive devices can be detonated by radio transmissions.
Suspicious Mail
Members and staff are advised to be suspicious of any incoming packages that appear to contain plastic or batteries, or show other signs such as protruding wires, strange odors or oil stains on the wrapping. If a suspicious package is received, DO NOT HANDLE IT, immediately contact the Crisis Response Team.

Civil Disturbance/Demonstration Procedures
Most demonstrations are peaceful and people not involved should attempt to carry on business as usual. Avoid provoking or obstructing demonstrators. If a disturbance seems to threaten the occupants of the building, report it immediately to the School and do the following:

- Alert all persons in the area of the situation.
- Lock all doors and windows.
- Close blinds to prevent flying glass.
- If necessary to evacuate, follow directions from police.

Hazardous Material Spills
- Alert personnel in the immediate vicinity.
  - One should alert the crisis response team outlined on pg ii. Wiener Laboratory Post-Doc Calla McNamee (694-325-1854) can also provide advice and/or help for hazardous material spills.
- Confine the spill, if possible without endangering personnel.
- Keep yourself between the spill and an exit while attempting to confine the emergency to avoid being trapped.
- Close doors to prevent spread of vapors into adjoining rooms and corridors.
- For flammable liquid spills, shut off ignition sources. Avoid unplugging equipment due to possible electrical arc between receptacle and plug.
- Evacuate to the assembly area. To initiate an evacuation activate the nearest break-glass fire alarm button on your way out, and follow the building evacuation procedure.

Overview of Select School Policies
Please consult the school’s website and/or administrative offices for a comprehensive list and description of school policies.

Statement on Archaeological Ethics
The American School of Classical Studies endorses the Code of Ethics of the Archaeological Institute of America. Members and Officers of the School shall do whatever is in their power to ensure that archaeological projects in which they are involved are conducted according to the highest standards, must not trade in, authenticate, or initially publish antiquities that have been illegally excavated, and shall inform appropriate authorities of any threats to archaeological sites and of any illegal import and export of antiquities which come to their attention.

Misconduct Policy
The American School of Classical Studies adopted a Misconduct Policy on May 8, 2004. The School expects its members to abide by the highest standards of scholarly conduct and accepts responsibility for investigating allegations of misconduct against its staff and members; scholars whose research was conducted with funds from the School; or scholars undertaking archaeological excavation or survey, research, or publication of archaeological and archival primary source materials in the care of the School, including the Blegen and Gennadius Libraries, the Excavations of the Athenian Agora, and the Excavations of Ancient Corinth. Allegations of misconduct made against scholars whose research was conducted at the School with funds from federal or foundation grants such as the National Endowment for the Humanities, the National Science Foundation, the Mellon Foundation, the Kress Foundation, or others shall be reported to the relevant body and adjudicated in accordance with the policy of that funding agency or institution.

Equal opportunity and ethics statement
The School provides equal opportunity for employment to all applicants without regard to age, sex, sexual orientation, race, color, religion, national or ethnic origin or handicap. Professional behavior and civility are expected of all members of the School community. Exploitation, discrimination, sexual harassment, abuse and insensitivity are damaging to morale and collegiality. Officers of the School, all staff, and members of the Managing Committee should avoid inappropriate behavior and promote a collegial atmosphere. All employees should expect to work in an atmosphere free of any behavior which debilitates morale or otherwise interferes with working effectiveness. Any individual who feels he or she has suffered discrimination or sexual harassment should follow the grievance procedure outlined in the School’s Personnel Policies and Regulations document.

Permits
All Members who wish to excavate in Greece, or to study, photograph, or draw objects in Greek museums and storerooms must obtain a permit issued by the Greek Ministry of Culture. All Members who desire to undertake such research are requested to submit a letter to the Director of the School giving specific bibliographical information and museum inventory numbers for all objects they wish to examine. The School will make the required applications on their behalf to the appropriate Greek authorities. Members should bear in mind that the application process takes a certain amount of time (usually, at least a month) and are, therefore, encouraged to make their written requests to the Director as soon as possible. Further information is available on the website and from the staff in the administrative offices.

Drug-free campus and facilities
The School, as a matter of institutional policy and as required by law, is committed to the prevention of unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by members and employees. The School's "Standards of Conduct on Illicit Drugs & Alcohol for Members and Staff" as well as "Information on Legal Sanctions" are posted in the U.S. and Greek offices, and are also available in both places upon request. It is the School's policy to discourage violations of Federal, State, and Local laws in connection with the possession, use or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by its members and staff, both in the U.S. and Greece. Where appropriate, the School will refer members and staff who violate such laws for prosecution by the relevant government authorities and will cooperate fully with such authorities. Violation of the School's policy may result in expulsion or dismissal for members and staff.

Gardens
The school’s gardens are well-kept and provide a peaceful area on campus. Members are encouraged to utilize the space below the Blegen Library as long as it is in a responsible manner. If school members wish to use the gardens for small gatherings such as a cookout, please discuss the issue with the Assistant Director.

Loring Hall:
Priority for housing in Loring Hall is given to Fellows of the School and participants in the School’s Regular Program. Rooms not allotted to Fellows and Regular Members are available for occupancy by any other Member of the School. Most rooms are for single occupancy and share common bathroom facilities. Pets are not allowed in Loring Hall. Rooms assigned to Fellows and Members of the School are for their personal use only. They are neither to be rented nor loaned to other persons.

Smoking policy
Smoking is prohibited outdoors within 5 m. of the perimeter of any ASCSA building, including arches and covered entrances, to ensure that second-hand smoke does not enter the area through entrances, windows, or ventilation systems. Cigarette butts are to be extinguished and placed in appropriate outdoor receptacles. Throwing cigarette butts on the ground or pavement is considered littering. “Smoking” also includes the use of e-cigarettes that create a vapor.

Loring Hall Noise and Party Policy
For those staying in or visiting Loring Hall, please remember that the residence is a communal building. Be respectful and conscious of noise levels, especially when gathered on the balconies at late hours. Before organizing any events or parties in Loring Hall, please inform the residence manager, Niamh Michalopoulou, to prevent potential conflicts. If hosting a party, organizers are entirely responsible for the cleanup.

Temporary Storage
An apotheke for temporary storage of members' belongings is located on the ground floor of Loring Hall. All current members may store their luggage in the apotheke free of charge and keep possession of a locker for one year after their membership lapses. After that period, a $100 annual rental fee will be charged; this rate will increase each year until the individual removes his/her belongings or renews his/her membership at the School. We will automatically discard items in unpaid lockers. Neither the American School nor any member of its staff is liable in the event of loss or damage of any kind. Before storing articles in the apotheke, members should talk to the Residence Manager.

Check Cashing
As a service to its members, the School cashes personal checks twice each week on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Checks should be left in the Business Office mailbox or with the Bursar on Monday, Wednesday, or Friday between the hours of 12:00 and 14:00. Money may be picked up the following Tuesday or Thursday between 12:00 and 14:00 from the Bursar’s office. The following guidelines for this service are effective immediately:

1. All checks must be made out to the ASCSA;
2. Checks should be made out in small amounts and in any case no more than $2,000.

Mail Forwarding Policy
The school does not forward mail for its members. After leaving the ASCSA, please update your address with all agencies that send you mail. The Greek post office (or a kind friend at the school) may be able to forward your mail on a short term basis. If mail remains in the ASCSA mailboxes for more than six months, it will be discarded.

Membership Fees
The fees associated with ASCSA membership (Regular, Student Associate, Senior Associate) will be assessed according to the amount of time an individual spends at the School’s facilities. Membership during the academic year (September-May) does not extend into the summer months. If an individual requests a full year of membership (12 consecutive months), the total fee will be for 10 months. This discount is in recognition of the numerous Greek and American holidays and low periods of activity at the School during a full calendar year. In assessing fees for stays shorter than a full month, the School prorates its monthly fees on an incremental basis. Furthermore, the fee scale is related to status (senior vs. student) and institutional affiliation. Different rates apply to students, faculty, and graduates of Cooperating Institutions of the ASCSA than those from non-affiliated institutions. See the School’s website for further information.
