THIRTY-FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE AMERICAN SCHOOL OF CLASSICAL STUDIES AT ATHENS
1915-1916

To the Council of the Archaeological Institute of America:

GENTLEMEN—I take pleasure in transmitting to you the annual report of the Managing Committee of the American School of Classical Studies at Athens to the Trustees of the School, to be printed with the annual reports of the Institute.

Very truly yours,

J. R. WHEELER,
Chairman of the Managing Committee.

To the Trustees of the American School of Classical Studies at Athens:

GENTLEMEN—I have the honor to report to you on the affairs of the School for the year ending August 31, 1916.

The death of Professor Fitz Gerald Tisdall of the College of the City of New York, one of the oldest members of the Managing Committee, occurred on November 11, 1915. Professor Tisdall was elected to the Committee in 1886. In the earlier years of the School he attended the annual meetings regularly and took an active part in the discussions which determined the policies of the School that have since become traditional.

One new member has been added to the Committee during the year—Professor Henry Lamar Crosby of the University of Pennsylvania.

The conditions produced by the European war have of course greatly affected the work of the School, so far as students are concerned. There has been but one in residence, Mr. Ralph Walker Scott, and though there are indications that with the advent of peace we may expect a full renewal of our numbers, it is hardly likely that others will go out before that time.

The absence of any number of students made it possible for the Director and Secretary to take their vacations during the academic year instead of in the summer, leaving the School in charge of Mr. Dinsmoor, and this enabled them to attend the annual meeting of the Archaeological Institute in Princeton, and to speak on the results of the recent excavations. The present unrest in Greece itself has unfortunately prevented a similar arrangement of work this year. The studies of the officers of the School have suffered less through the interruptions of the war than might be expected. Mr. Dinsmoor has about completed his work on the Propylaea, and his last report has many new and interesting observations on the problem of the projected north-east and south-east wings of the gateway. He was also engaged in work at Corinth for a time. The Director has spent some time at Corinth this year, but since returning to Greece from this country, he has been mostly in Athens, occupied with questions about the Erechtheum. Mr. Blegen has continued the excavation of prehistoric sites at Corinth with marked success. Owing to lack of funds no work on the main Corinthian excavation was attempted, but the yield in prehistoric material has proved very striking, and Corinth must now be reckoned as one of the important sites for the early period along with Thessaly, Boeotia and the Argolid.

In the matter of publication it may be noted that, since the last report, two articles, one by Miss Walker and Miss Goldman, and one by Miss Goldman, on their excavations at Halae have been published in the Journal of Archaeology, and Mr. Swift has begun in the same journal the publication of some of the sculpture recently found at Corinth.

A plan for the purchase of some land fronting on Speusippos Street, opposite the School, has been brought forward recently, and some of the friends of the School who are especially interested in getting a building for the residence of women students are now seeking to secure the site. We are particularly indebted to Miss Goldman and to President Thomas of Bryn Mawr for their activity in this matter. At the time of the preparation of this report gifts have been received toward the purchase of this land from Mrs. Mary Clark Thompson ($500), Mr. Julius Goldman ($1,000), Mr. Samuel Sachs ($250), Miss F. L. Stetson ($100), Mr. Felix Warburg ($250), and Mr. Paul J. Sachs ($50). These are now gratefully acknowledged.
The most pressing problem for the moment before the Managers of the School is a financial one. The constant rise in prices has now reached a point where our income is no longer sufficient to meet the necessary expenses of administration, and we are confronted with the alternative of increasing our resources or of curtailing our work. The latter course would be most unfortunate, for during recent years the publications of the School have included much of high scientific value, and to have such work cut down would be a calamity. The whole history of the School is a demonstration of what excellent scientific and educational results may be obtained with a very moderate outlay of money. That an institution which for thirty-five years has accomplished what the American School at Athens has, on an annual expenditure for its fixed charges within $10,000, is certainly a creditable record. But this can no longer be done, and for these fixed charges we ought now to spend about $15,000. It is greatly to be hoped that the friends of higher learning may appreciate the careful economy which has borne such good fruit, and give us the much needed assistance.

The School acknowledges with many thanks gifts during the past year from Mr. Allison Armour ($100), Mr. Albert Gallatin ($50), Mrs. Jesse Metcalf ($250), and Mrs. E. G. Radeke ($100). Other gifts will be acknowledged later when the full annual report is printed.

At the annual meeting in May, Mr. Dinsmoor and Mr. Blegen were re-elected respectively Architect and Secretary of the School, and Mr. Hill, whose term had expired, was re-elected Director without term. Owing to the conditions entailed by the war, Professor Charles Forster Smith did not go out to Athens as the annually appointed professor. When peace comes, we hope he may take up his long deferred duties.

A list of the donors of books during the year is appended. Forty-six bound volumes have been added to the library, and the total number of books is now 5624:

- Sir Arthur Evans (1 vol.),
- Professor L. L. Forman (1),
- Egyptian Ministry of Finance (1),
- Dr. T. A. Buenger (1),
- Dr. L. R. Dean (1),
- Philological Society—"Parnassos" (1),
- Professor G. Mistriotis (2),
- Greek Archaeological Society (1),
- French Ministry of Public Instruction (1),
- Greek Ministry of Public Instruction

(1), Bryn Mawr College (5 dissertations), British School at Athens (10), Italian School (1), Mrs. F. M. Whitehouse (1), Museum of Fine Arts, Boston (Monthly Bulletin), Minneapolis Institute of Fine Arts (Bulletin), Worcester Art Museum (Bulletin), University of Colorado (Studies).

Pamphlets have been received as follows: Messrs. A. Orlando (1), S. A. Siderides (1), N. Papadakes (1), W. W. Hyde (1), B. Pace (1), Phoutrides and Fahrquar (1), S. Lampros (1).

For the Managing Committee,
J. R. Wheeler, Chairman.

AMERICAN SCHOOL AT ATHENS

The American School of Classical Studies at Athens was founded by the Archaeological Institute of America in 1881, and is supported by the cooperation of leading American Universities and Colleges. It is in charge of a Managing Committee, and its property is vested in an incorporated Board of Trustees.

REGULATIONS OF THE SCHOOL

THE OBJECT OF THE SCHOOL

I. The object of the School shall be to furnish to graduates of American Universities and Colleges and to other qualified students an opportunity to study Classical Literature, Art, and Antiquities in Athens, under suitable guidance; to prosecute and to aid original research in these subjects; and to cooperate with the Archaeological Institute of America, so far as it may be able, in conducting the exploration and excavation of classic sites.

THE MANAGING COMMITTEE

II. The Managing Committee shall have power to make such regulations for the government of the School as it may deem proper, and shall prepare and adopt the budget for the annual expenditure of the available income. Each of the Universities and Colleges uniting in support of the School shall have representation on the Committee. The President of the Archaeological Institute, the Director of the School, the Chairman of the Managing Committee of the American School for Oriental Study and Research in Palestine, and the Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of the Institute, shall be ex officio members of the Committee. The Professors of the School shall also be members of the Committee during their year of office and the year following. The Committee shall have power to add to its membership.

III. The Managing Committee shall meet annually, in New York, on the second Saturday in May. By special vote these meetings may be held elsewhere. Special meetings may be called at any time by the Chairman. At any meeting, nine members of the Committee shall constitute a quorum for business.

IV. The officers of the Managing Committee shall be a Chairman and a Secretary. There shall also be an Executive Committee.

V. The Chairman of the Managing Committee shall be the official representative in America of the interests of the School. He shall present a report annually to the Trustees of the School. This report shall be printed in the publications of the Archaeological Institute of America.

VI. The Executive Committee shall consist of eight members. The Chairman, Secretary, the Treasurer of the Trustees, and the President of the Archaeological Institute of America, shall be ex officio members of the Executive Committee; the other four members shall be chosen by the Managing Committee in the following manner: at the annual meeting in May, 1901, two members of the Managing Committee shall be chosen to serve for two years and two members to serve for one year, and at each subsequent annual meeting two members shall be chosen to serve for two years. The Chairman and Secretary of the Managing Committee shall be the Chairman and Secretary of the Executive Committee.

VII. The Managing Committee shall elect from its members as its representative an Associate Editor of the Journal of the Institute.

THE DIRECTOR AND THE PROFESSORS

VIII. The work of the School in Greece shall be under the superintendence of a Director. He shall be chosen and his salary and the term for which he is chosen shall be fixed by the Managing Committee. He shall have charge of the School building, and shall be resident in Athens from the 1st of October to the 1st of July, with liberty to absent himself for short periods for purposes of exploration or research. He shall superintend the work of each member of the School, advising him in what direction to turn his studies, and assisting him in their prosecution. He shall have control of all excavations undertaken by the School. He shall make semi-annual Reports to the Managing Committee, in November and in May, of the work accomplished by the School.

IX. Each year the Managing Committee shall appoint from the instructors of the Universities and Colleges uniting in support of the School one or more Professors, who shall reside in Athens during the ensuing year and take part in the instruction of the School. The Committee may appoint other Professors and Instructors, as circumstances require. In case of the illness or absence of the Director, the senior Professor shall act as Director for the time being.

X. The Director and Professors shall give such instruction as they may deem desirable and shall have oversight of the work upon which students are engaged. They shall at times hold public meetings at which such students of the School as they may select, or other persons invited by them to take part, shall read papers on subjects of their study and research, or make reports on the work undertaken by them or by the School.

THE SCHOOL YEAR

XI. The School year shall extend from the first day of October to the first day of July. During this period a regular member of the School shall ordinarily reside in Athens; but permission may be granted him by the Director to travel and study for a limited time elsewhere in Greece, in Greek lands, or in Italy. Further, under exceptional circumstances, with the consent of the Director and of the Chairman of the Managing Committee, a regular member of the School may be permitted to prosecute special studies in countries other than those just named, provided such studies are supplementary to work already begun in Athens.

THE MEMBERS OF THE SCHOOL

XII. Regular members of the School shall be those who are enrolled for a full year's work. Associate members may be admitted to the School for a shorter term, but not for a period of less than three months; they shall be subject to the same general regulations and shall be admitted to the same privileges as regular members.

XIII. Bachelors of Arts of cooperating Universities and Colleges, and all Bachelors of Arts who have studied at any of these institutions as candidates for a higher degree, shall be admitted to membership in the School on presenting to the Chairman of the Managing Committee a satisfactory certificate from the University or College at which they have last studied, stating that they are competent to pursue courses of study at the School. Such members shall be subject to no charge for tuition. All other persons who desire to become members of the School shall make application to the Chairman of the Managing Committee, and if admitted they shall be required to pay a fee of $25 per annum for tuition and library privileges. Students occupying rooms in the School building shall pay a fee of $55 per annum. When rooms are taken for shorter periods, the fee will be $12 per month.

XIV. Every regular member of the School shall pursue some definite subject of study or research in Classical Literature, Art, or Antiquities, and shall present a paper embodying the results of some important part of his year's work, unless for special reasons he is excused from these obligations by the Director. His paper, if approved by the Director, shall be sent to the Committee on Publication, in accordance with the provisions of Regulation XXI. If approved by the Editorial Board of the Journal also, it shall be issued as a publication of the School.

XV. Excavation shall not be part of the regular work of a member of the School, but any member may, at the discretion of the Director, be permitted to take part in it. All work of excavation, of investigation, or of any other kind done by any member during his connection with the School, shall be regarded as done for the School and by the School, and shall be under the supervision and control of the Director.

XVI. No communication, even of an informal nature, shall be made by any member of the School to the public press, which has not previously been submitted to the Director and authorized by him.

XVII. Americans resident or travelling in Greece, may, at the discretion of the Director, be allowed to enjoy the privileges of the School, although not enrolled as students.

FELLOWSHIPS

XVIII. The Fellowships administered by the Managing Committee shall be awarded mainly by competitive examination.

The subjects on which candidates shall be examined, and the places and times at which examinations will be held, shall be announced not less than six months in advance.

XIX. Every holder of one of these Fellowships shall be enrolled as a regular member of the School, and shall be required to fulfill the maximum requirement of residence, and to present a paper embodying the results of some important part of his year's work.

PUBLICATIONS

XX. All manuscripts, drawings, or photographs intended for publication shall be sent, after approval by the Director, to the Committee on Publication.

XXI. Every article sent for publication shall be written on comparatively light paper of uniform size, with a margin of at least two inches on the left of each page. The writing shall be on only one side of the leaf, and shall be clear and distinct, particularly in the quotations and references. Special care shall be taken in writing Greek, that the printer may not confound similar letters, and the accents shall be placed strictly above the proper vowels, as in printing. All quotations and references shall be carefully verified by the author, after the article is completed, by comparison with the original sources. Failure to comply with the provisions of this regulation shall be sufficient ground for the rejection of the article.
FELLOWSHIPS
IN THE SCHOOL AT ATHENS

Two Fellowships in Greek Archaeology, with a stipend of $800 each, will be awarded for the year 1916–1917, at the American School of Classical Studies at Athens.*

The Fellowships in Archaeology are awarded chiefly on the basis of competitive written examinations, but other evidence of the ability and attainments of candidates will be considered. They are awarded for one year; a Fellow in Classical Archaeology, however, may, at the discretion of the Committee on Fellowships, be reappointed for a second term without an examination, on the recommendation of the Director and Professors of the School, but not more than one such reappointment will be made in any year, and no Fellowship in Classical Archaeology may be held for more than two years.

The holders of these Fellowships will be enrolled as regular members of the School, and will be required to pursue their studies, under the supervision of its Director, during the full school year. But Fellows may, with the consent of the Director, spend a limited portion of the year in residence at the School in Rome, under the supervision of its Director. In addition to his general studies, each holder of a Fellowship is required to prosecute some definite subject of special research, and, after the completion of the year, to present a paper embodying the results of his investigation. Twice in the year, namely on February 1 and July 1, each Fellow will make a report to the Chairman of the Committee on Fellowships, with regard to the use which he has made of his time. A somewhat detailed description of the progress of his researches will be required. For the prosecution of his special investigation he may obtain leave, under certain conditions, to supplement his studies at Athens by researches elsewhere than in Greece. (See Regulations XI and XIX.)

Each candidate must announce in writing his intention to offer himself for examination. This announcement must be made to the Chairman of the Committee on Fellowships (Professor H. N. Fowler, Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio), and must be in the Chairman’s hands not later than February 1, 1917. The receipt of the application will be acknowledged and the candidate will receive a blank, to be filled out and returned to the Chairman by February 15, in which he will give information in regard to his studies and attainments. A copy of this blank may also be obtained at any time by application to the proper Chairman.

The examinations will be held in Athens, and at any of the universities or colleges represented on the Managing Committee of the School, on March 8–10, 1917.

The award of the Fellowships will be made, and notice sent to all candidates, as soon as practicable after the examinations are held. This notice will be mailed probably not later than May 1. The income of these Fellowships is paid in four equal instalments on September 15, December 15, March 15, and June 1.

The Fellowship examinations of 1918 will be held in March of that year under conditions similar to those which are stated above. Special inquiries on the subject of the Fellowships of the School at Athens should be addressed to Professor Harold N. Fowler, Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio.

INFORMATION FOR STUDENTS*

Students who desire to apply for admission to the School at Athens should address, if in America, the Chairman of the Managing Committee; if in Europe, the Director of the School. Information with reference to the School may be obtained from either of these officers. The application should be accompanied by a statement of the preparation of the applicant.

* One of these Fellowships is maintained by the Archaeological Institute of America. The Institute hopes to leave the amount of this stipend unchanged, but may reduce it to $600.

* During the war, most of the following information cannot be depended upon.
The student should gain as great command as possible of the German, French, and Modern Greek languages before going abroad; and the summer preceding a year at the School may profitably be spent in France or Germany, working the Museums (Paris, Berlin, Dresden, Munich) and obtaining practice in French or German conversation.

The usual port of arrival in Greece for those coming from Western Europe is Patras, eight hours by rail from Athens. To Patras the shortest sea route is from Brindisi (thirty hours, including the stop at Corfu), with four steamers weekly. Those who come from countries north of Italy will avoid the long railway journey to Brindisi by taking the weekly express steamer from Trieste. The Italian steamer from Venice is less direct.

From Marseilles there are fortnightly steamers to the Piraeus, via Naples; and from Genoa, via Naples and Catania; also weekly steamers from Catania to the Piraeus, touching at Canal in Crete.

If the student wishes to go directly from America to Italy, he will take one of the lines which have a regular express service from New York or Boston to Genoa or Naples (minimum price about $80 for first-cabin passage). Brindisi is twelve hours by rail from Naples.

For the voyage from America to Greece, direct, one may take a steamer of the Austro-Americana Line at New York for Patras (prices the same as to Naples). The Cunard line also has steamers sailing to Patras, and by the Greek Line one may go directly to Piraeus.

The cost of living in Athens is very much what one chooses to make it; but the city is no longer among the less expensive European capitals. At the large hotels in Athens, board and lodging can be obtained for $14 per week; at small hotels and in private families, for $8 per week, and upward. A limited number of men students may have rooms, without board, in the School building at Athens.

The School library at Athens, which now contains about six thousand volumes, provides all the books that are most essential for study in Greece, and the student in travelling should encumber himself with few books.
